Welcig me Week 2025

600K military families move each year Blue Star

70% move to homes not on military installations

21% spend more than $2,000 on unreimbursed moving costs

6-9 times military children move during their K-12 education

In 2025 ...

we're looking to do more for more military families — we're looking to expand partnerships and increase engagement through asking individuals, small businesses, local organizations, schools, corporations, to all DO YOUR PART. While frequent relocations are a specific challenge of military family life, the challenges associated with moving is something we can all help solve for these families. Now in its sixth year, Blue Star Welcome Week helps military families get plugged into their new communities.

But we need partners like you to make this work.

Blue Star Welcome Week is all at once hyper-local and brilliantly national. Authentic and custom to the communities in which Blue Star Welcome Week events are held, everyone can do their part to engage and participate.

We work individually with philanthropic sponsors to develop tailored options for support. Recognition and engagement opportunities can include:

- Logo recognition on websites and T-shirts
- Employee involvement: Engagement and volunteer activities not only foster teamwork and camaraderie among employees but also offer them a meaningful way to contribute to their community.
- Networking opportunities: Invitations to national events and participation in local chapter advisory boards allow donors to connect with other supporters, potential partners, and community leaders.
